

Linc Health's Grimes Wins Clinical Engineering – Information Technology Award

Holliston, MA – February 1, 2011 – Stephen L. Grimes, Director of Clinical Systems Engineering for Linc Health, LLC (Linc Health), has been honored as the winner of the 2010 ACCE-HIMSS Excellence in Clinical Engineering and Information Technology Synergy Award for his outstanding contributions to the field of healthcare information technology. This award is presented jointly by the American College of Clinical Engineering (ACCE) and the Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS).

Further information about the award is available on the HIMSS website:

<http://www.himss.org/ASP/ContentRedirector.asp?ContentId=76112&type=HIMSSNewsItem>

The award will be presented at the Annual HIMSS Award Banquet in Orlando, FL.

* * *

Linc Health is the leading provider of high value engineering based services to the commercial healthcare industry. Linc Health's portfolio includes comprehensive Clinical Engineering, Facilities Management and other technical services. As a business-to-business productivity partner and a leader in technology process improvement services, Linc Health combines business, technology, and healthcare expertise to provide the most comprehensive solution. Linc Health corporate offices are located in Holliston, Massachusetts.

Linc Health and its parent companies are owned by ABM Industries Incorporated (ABM). New York-based ABM (NYSE: ABM), a leading provider in the facilities services industry for over a century, has a rich heritage of client care and quality service. With 2010 revenues of approximately $3.5 billion and nearly 100,000 employees, ABM offers a wide range of facility services to a broad and diverse client base. The addition of Linc makes ABM a $4 billion company expected to join the ranks of the Fortune 500.